Does your practice:

- Spend extra time and money processing and creating and sending paper insurance claims?
- Contact insurance payers only to spend excessive time on the telephone trying to determine the status of claims you have submitted?
- Process paper EOB's and remittances from insurance payers?
- Make telephone calls to insurance payers to verify patient insurance eligibility?

Objectives

- Learn how EDI can benefit your office
- Discover transactions available for a multitude of needs
- Understand common terminology
- Identify best practices for electronic claims

Attend the on-line NDEDIC webinar EDI-Electronic Data Interchange: The Basics to learn how you can streamline many of the time-consuming processes your office must complete each day. By expanding your practice's use of EDI services you can increase office efficiency, reduce both labor and "hard" costs associated with insurance activities and improve office cash flow.

About our Speakers:

April Rimpley has been in the dental industry for eleven years. Her educational background includes a Bachelor's Degree from Wayne State College in Psychology with a Business Minor, a Master's Degree from Doane College in Management with a Leadership emphasis and her Fellow, Life Management Institute (FLMI) designation from the Life Office Management Association (LOMA).
